President Urges Immediate Higher Wage Scale

WAY IS PAVED FOR DROPPING TRADE FIGHTS

FRENCH RETALIATE TO MEET LOWER MONEY LEVEL

BY F. G. VOSBURGH
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, May 4 (AP)—American efforts to prepare the way for genuine contributions to world business recovery at the London economic conference next month were redoubled tonight in the face of reports from abroad which accentuated the difficulties involved.

Earnest conversations with Italian and Argentine envoys invited here by the president were pursued at the state department and the White House while the cables were kept busy with official messages to London where Norman H. Davis, ambassador-at-large, is working for agreement of European nations to an armistice on tariff wall boosting between now and the conference opening June 12.

Undersecretary William Phillips of the state department said France in accepting had made three reservations, reserving the right to raise its tariffs to meet depreciation of currencies, specifying that the truce shall not apply to tariff measures now before its parliament and stating that its consent was conditional on acceptance of the proposal by the principal powers.

Italy Favorable

Later word that Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald in the house of commons had announced Britain's conditional acceptance was noted with some satisfaction at the state department where the British "safeguards" were said to be similar to the French reservations.

Uncertainty abroad as to whether the dollar is to be depreciated was seen by officials here as having an apparent bearing on the desire of other countries to retain the power of raising their tariffs in event of such an occurrence.

Italian support of the truce was looked for in the light of statements by Guido Jung, Mussolini's finance minister, who now is engaged in the international conversations here with the president and secretary of state. He emphasized his chief's desire for lowered trade barriers.

Failing general agreement to a truce on tariffs in the interval before June 12, the United States will seek at least for such an agreement to apply to the time during which the conference is in session. This proposal also has been made officially by Mr. Davis but it was emphasized here that the American government is far from abandoning hope for the truce between now and the conference.

Other developments which drew the serious attention of American officials included the reaction in some private circles abroad to the government's refusal to pay the interest on its bonds in gold to foreign holders. Undersecretary Phillips said, however, that no protests

STATE BANKING CHIEF RETAINED

Comstock Says Reichert Can Keep Job if He Wants To

Lansing, May 4 (AP)—Rudolph E. Reichert, state banking commissioner for the past six years, will be retained, it was announced today by Governor Comstock.

Reichert's terms expires Saturday. He is a Republican. The governor said he "will continue as banking commissioner if he wants to."

Whether a formal reappointment will be made depends upon the attitude of the Democratic majority in the senate. That body has declined to confirm two of the governor's appointments, and for that reason he may let Reichert continue to serve and give him a recess appointment after the legislature adjourns.

Reichert faces the prospect of a sharpiy reduced salary. After he was appointed by Former Governor Fred W. Green the salary of the banking commissioner was fixed at $10,000 a year.

Legislative finance committees propose now to place it at $4,000 or $5,000. Reichert's home is in Ann Arbor.

Olaf Johnson, 43, Detroit, driver of the stalled truck, is held for questioning by Mishawaka police.

Alpine, Tex., May 4. (AP)—Lieut. Wayne C. Gardiner and Staff Sergt. A. R. Huntley, Texas army airmen, flew to a flaming death against a mountainside of the Ord Range in a sand storm late today.

Their attack plane developed motor trouble and crashed on a flight with 23 other planes from Fort Crockett, Galveston, to March Field, Calif., to participate in maneuvers.

Fire swept the wreckage.

FARM STRIKE IS SCHEDULED ON MAY 13TH

PRODUCTS WILL BE HELP TO FORCE UP PRICES

Des Moines, Ia., May 4 (AP)—A nation-wide strike May 13 on all farm products was voted today by the National Farmers Holiday association in convention here.

For the second time within a year the delegates decided to withhold farm products from market in an effort to obtain prices covering cost of production.

Adoption of the resolution for the declaration of a farm holiday was unanimous.

The resolutions called for:

(1) The declaration of a farm marketing holiday effective May 13.

(2) Resubmission of the association's legislative demands to congress.

(3) Adoption of a scrip resolution for exchange of farm produce for shop labor and appointment or election of a committee to outline the plan to labor organizations.

Thousand Present

Included among the legislative demands of the association are the enactment by congress of the Frazier bill, the Patman bonus bill and the Willer bill.

One thousand farmers from various states and from Canada were present. John A. Bosch, national secretary, estimated the total membership of the association at between 1,000,000 and 1,500,000.

John A. Scott of Craryville, N. Y., headed the committee which reported the resolution for the declaration of a farm holiday.

The resolution for the scrip plan, proposed by A. C. Townley of Minnesota, calls for the issuance of an international people's council for defense of one billion dollars in scrip money to be used in exchange of products between farmers and organized labor.

Demand was made that Governor Clyde L. Herring of Iowa withdraw national guardsmen from the farm disorder area. It called upon the governor to "restore civil government, and avoid the impending catastrophe that we may struggle through this depression in peace as do our surrounding sister states."

Violence Last Year

Attention also was given the Iowa disturbances over farm mortgage foreclosures through the request of Milo Reno, national leader of the holiday movement, that the delegates seek to raise funds for

Escanaba Gets Branch; Beer on Tap Thursday

BY SAM B. McCOOL
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Lansing, May 4 (AP)—Beer will be on tap one week from tonight in Michigan.

The 15-year prohibition drought in the state will end officially at 6 p. m. next Thursday on the order of the state liquor control commission.

When that hour arrives it will be legal for all retail establishments licensed by the commission to fill schooners, schupers, steins, and even water-glasses with the long-missing legalized beverage. The commisison anticipates that a thirsty public will be able to buy at least an eight-ounce glass of beer for five cents.

The commission made one exception to the general "zero hour" that it fixed today. As the first of its kind, the application of the Wayne County Council of the American Legion for a special license to serve beer at a party next Wednesday night was approved. The license permits the council to begin serving the beer at 6 p. m. on that day. The permit will cost the Legion $2 and proceeds from the sale of the beer will be turned over to charity.

Shipments of beer from other states into Michigan may begin immediately under an order of the commission. Striking a snag in dealing with its problem of approving warehouses, the commission adopted a resolution permitting out-of-state breweries to ship beer to any warehouse they choose for the present.

The resolution directed that persons making such shipments communicate with the commission, inform it of the location of the warehouse, and obtain the tax stamp before delivering it for sale.

Michigan breweries will also be

Beer Sale Illegal For East Lansing

East Lansing, May 4 (AP)—This city, home of Michigan State college, is the first in the state to prohibit the manufacture and sale of 3.2 beer under the new law. The city council at a special meeting Thursday adopted a resolution against the retailing or manufacture of the beverage, the resolution pointing out that the municipality voted for a dry delegate to the recent ratification repeal convention.

MOBBED JUDGE TELLS OF RIOT

County Attorney Charges Iowa Troops Guilty of Kidnaping

Le Mars, Ia., May 4 (AP)—An elderly judge told a military court today how a mob of farmers dragged him from his court, threatened him with hanging, subjected him to indignities, and finally left him unconscious.

The four members of the court did not reveal whether the judge, 34-year-old C. C. Bradley, gave the names of the leaders of the farmers seeking to halt mortgage foreclosures on farms.

The "war front" in northwestern Iowa broadened, meanwhile, when national guard troops entered Cherokee county—where County Attorney James Smith had threatened to jail any arriving troopers—and arrested two men.

Those held are Walter Dunn, farmer of near Strubble, and Emil W. Klabe, farmer near Marcus. They were brought to the camp prison here.

Smith, advised of the arrests, issued the following statement:

"If the men were taken without their consent, I shall present to the grand jury evidence against the officer who sent the troops there, the officers who were in charge in making the arrests, and every man with them, on a charge of violating the civil law for kidnaping, which carries a life sentence."

City Can Collect Rent Of Delinquent

Detroit, May 4 (AP)—Arthur P. Lederle, assistant corporation counsel, Thursday informed the city council that the city treasurer not only has the power but it is his duty to collect rents from tenants in a building where taxes are delinquent. He said the opinion was asked when 125 schoolteachers, residents of a hotel, complained that the management has refused to accept more than 25 percent in scrip payment of rent. The hotel, he said, has not paid any taxes since 1928 and owes about $150,000.

PEEK SELECTED FARM MEDIATOR

Moline, Ill., Man Will Chart Trade Factors of Farm Prices

BY ROY P. HENDRICKSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, May 4 (AP)—Stirred by its possibilities as a test for more general application, President Roosevelt has undertaken to chart personally the path of administering the "trade agreement" provisions of the farm relief bill.

He has selected George N. Peek, of Moline, Ill., as administrator and is confident that he can swing food and textile industries into a series of commodity trade agreements to eliminate competitive factors which have steadily driven prices downward since 1929.

Peek, a farm equipment manufacturer, is to be given a free hand to bring these agreements into being and to put the full force of government enforcement machinery behind them. They will be immune from attack under the anti-trust laws.

Secretary Wallace will center his attention on the program to reduce acreage and bring domestic production down in line with consumption needs. R. G. Tugwell, assistant secretary of agriculture, will concentrate on a third feature, restoring foreign markets for farm products and opening new outlets for them.

It is on the trade agreement feature that attention will be centered at the outset of the farm bill's administration. All groups interested in some phase of a commodity from the farmer to the retail dealer will be represented on commodity councils to be organized promptly for wheat, cotton, corn, hogs, and other basic products.

SALES, INCOME TAXES ARGUED

Chain Store Licensing Bill Approved by Committee

Lansing, Mich., May 4 (AP)—Despite administration disapproval, the house committee of the whole today advanced the Fitzgerald bill proposing a license for chain stores.

Governor Comstock declared "I did everything I could to stop the bill." He fears it may complicate the administration sales tax measure and develop a legislative snarl that would imperil new revenue sources. The bill was approved by the committee without debate. It calls for a license fee of $10 to $250 on every chain store.

Won't Compromise

In the meantime the taxation committee continued to argue over the sales and income tax bill. Governor Comstock told Chairman Fred W. Watkins he would not compromise. Watkins informed the governor the committee appears to be reluctant to release the bill carrying so many diversified provisions, but thought a straight retail sales tax might be approved.

"The state needs the revenue. I cannot accept any substitute for the bill. The tax must cover manufactured products, professional and utility services and mining and timber as well as retail sales," the governor said.

The total state deficit was estimated by G. R. Thompson, budget director, as around $20,000,000.

Wants to Go Home

Rep. Ate Dykstra, Republican, Grand Rapids, made the first formal house attempt to speed the session to adjournment. He offered a resolution proposing that no bills introduced after May 12 be considered. The resolution was referred to the rules committee.

An unprecedented public hearing was held when the entire membership of the house sat as a committee to listen to a debate over the McDonald bill increasing fees on common and contract carrier motor vehicles and giving the utilities commission authority to fix rates. The measure was said to have the backing of the railroads. Speakers from many parts of the state flayed and praised its terms. At the conclusion of the two hour argument the bill was referred back to the transportation committee for further consideration.

HELP PLEDGED FOR INDUSTRY TO END CHAOS

BUSINESS RECOVERY IDEAS OUTLINED IN ADDRESS

Washington, May 4 (AP)—President Roosevelt tonight promised government cooperation to American industry in a voluntary effort on its part to end "chaos" and bring about fair competition and elimination of "cut throat prices."

In an address to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States he also said "it is essential, as a matter of national justice, that the wage scale should be brought back to meet the cost of living and that this process should begin now and not later."

Here is the full text of President Roosevelt's address tonight before the Chamber of Commerce of the United States:

Because of a national and a world situation which has taken every moment of my time during the past two months I have had to forego the privilege of discussing many matters of common interest with the members of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. For the same reason, frankly, I have had neither time nor opportunity to prepare for you tonight any complete phase of our national problems.

Upturn Evident

I do not have to tell you that the government of the United States in its executive and legislative branches has been seeking and obtaining action relating to our own internal economy and to initiation of a cooperative spirit among all the nations of the world. We have sought through moderate and wise measures to increase the volume of trade, to give employment to the unemployed and to effect a broad elevation of commodity prices.

I present to you three requests. During the past few weeks we have witnessed with a slight but definite upturn in most industries, a simultaneous rise in most commodity prices. Past experience indicates that when the price level begins to rise after a long period of declining commodity prices, wages which have been previously curtailed lag behind the rise in the price level.

That result has in the past imposed upon those who labor an unfair burden; has prevented their just and equitable share in the profits of industry and has limited the purchasing power of

WOMAN FOUND SHOT ON ROAD

Divorced Husband Being Held as Suspect; Body Bullet-Riddled

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 4 (AP)—The bullet riddled body of a woman found lying on a lonely road near here this morning has been identified as that of Mrs. Ruth Reed, 35, and her divorced husband, George D. Reed, Detroit city fireman, was being questioned here tonight.

Sheriff Jacob Andres of Washtenaw county and Lieut. Donald Leonard of the state police arrested Reed at his fire station in Detroit.

Fellow members of the fire department said Reed was not on duty last night, and that he appeared haggard and nervous this morning when he reported for work.

Paying Alimony

Lieut. Don Leonard of the state police said that tire tracks left at the scene of the slaying corresponded with those of the car owned by Reed. When questioned, police said Reed denied owing a .32 calibre revolver, but later they were told by William Miller, father of the dead woman, that Reed did own such a gun.

Fred Huff, 47, fellow workman in Detroit with Mrs. Reed at the Tornstaedt Mfg. Co., was to have met her at her home last night, he told authorities. He said he called her shortly before eight o'clock, and that she told him she was to meet her husband to be given some scrip with which to pay a bill. Huff said he called at 9 o'clock, and was told that Mrs. Reed had not returned.

He said he believed Reed was paying alimony to his former wife.

KIDNAPED GIRL

Selection of a New York intermediary to deal with the kidnapers of Margaret McMath, 10, above, was announced by the parents of Harwichport, Mass., and the search in the Cape Cod district broadened to take in Detroit, Mich., and Tryon, N. C., where the wealthy grandparents of the girl are located.

DOORS OPENED TO ABDUCTORS

Hostage Offered for Safe Return of Peggy McMath

BY EDWARD J. KEELEY
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Harwichport, Mass., May 4 (AP)—William Lee, tall, red-headed Harwichport shipbuilder, today told state police he would gladly give himself as hostage for the safe return of 10-year-old Margaret McMath.

A business associate of Neil McMath, father of the girl who was kidnaped Tuesday after being lured from her classroom, Lee made the offer to add one more means of contact with the abductors.

A plea by the parents of the child that the state police withdraw from the case for 24 hours to give the kidnapers further leeway in negotiating with the McMath family was refused after General Daniel Needham, head of the state police, had conferred with Governor Ely.

General Needham today expressed the belief that the solution of the McMath kidnaping might lead to a solution of the Lindbergh case.

"There is nothing inconsistent in this crime with the possibility of its having been done by a very clever professional crowd," he said "and it may be the same gang that operated in the Lindbergh case."

Further indication that police were considering this possibility came tonight when a request was made that banks determine whether any of the money given by Colonel Lindbergh while attempting to gain the return of his son had been located in this section.

While the parents hoped contact might be made directly with them, they also turned additional hope in the direction of Detroit and Tryon, N. C., in the belief that the kidnapers might treat with wealthy grandparents of the girl in efforts to obtain ransom.

Democrats Jockey For Ballot Place

Lansing, May 4 (AP)—A bill to give the Democrats the top position on the election ballot precipitated a sharp political skirmish in the senate today.

The bill, sponsored by Senator Theodore C. Ruff, Democrat, of St. Clair, would give the preferred position on the ballot to the party polling the greatest number of votes in the November election for lieutenant governor, instead of secretary of state as now provided. Republicans control the latter office while the lieutenant governor is a Democrat.

STEPS TAKEN TO HURRY AID FOR CARRIERS

CO-ORDINATE PART OF PLAN FOR ECONOMIES

BY CECIL B. DICKSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, May 4. (AP)—President Roosevelt's emergency program for rehabilitating the railroads during a year's suspension of the anti-trust laws was laid before congress today and Democratic leaders took immediate steps to push it to enactment at the special session.

Working until 3 o'clock this morning at the White House, the president whipped into final form his 350 word measure, asking congress to create a federal coordinator to work out immediate economies and permanent financial reorganization of the rail systems, repeal the recapture clause of the 1920 transportation act, and place railroad holding companies under the jurisdiction of the inter-state commerce commission.

Tariff Insufficient

The proposal is based on the president's campaign speech made last September in Salt Lake City, and is one of the most important parts of his emergency program.

Immediately after the message was read, legislation to carry out the president's recommendations was introduced by Senator Robinson, party leader, and by Chairman Rayburn of the house interstate commerce committee.

"The steam railways still constitute the main arteries of commerce in the United States," Mr. Roosevelt said in his message. "At this time, however, available tariff is not sufficient profitably to utilize existing railway facilities provided by new forms of transportation.

"Our broad problem is so to coordinate all agencies of transportation as to maintain adequate service. I am not yet ready to submit to the congress a comprehensive plan for permanent legislation."

Fair Wage Promised

Suggesting "three emergency steps can and should be taken at this special session," the president said, that "experience gained during the balance of this year will greatly assist the government and the carriers in preparation for a more permanent and a more comprehensive national transportation policy at the regular session of the congress in 1934."

President Roosevelt recommended the repeal of the recapture clause, which would cancel $361,000,000 in government claims against railroads for excess profits. This fund was to be pooled in the treasury for loans to weak lines. The interstate commerce commission has pointed out, he said, that it is "unworkable and impracticable."

Second, he proposed adoption of the Rayburn bill to place some 600 railroad holding companies under the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission, to block mergers and consolidations of lines without government sanction. The creation of a federal coordinator of transportation to work with three organized groups of carriers in the east, south and west, with a view to eliminating duplicated services, and unnecessary expenses, and laying the foundation for permanent rehab-

Lake Superior Potato Growers, Inc., has installed a power grader at its Houghton warehouse. It is the first machine of the kind in the upper peninsula, and it is grading a carload of Green Mountains daily for shipment to outside points.

The machine is in charge of Adolph North and was brought to Houghton through the efforts of B. A. Heath, agricultural agent of the South Shore railway, and R. A. Jasberg, the line's colonization agent.

"Machine grading is much superior to the old methods of grading by hand," said George Peters, Marquette, manager of the association. "The work is done faster and better by the machine. We hope to establish other warehouses as fast as possible in various parts of the peninsula and to equip them all with grading machines."

Escanabans Attend Purina Convention

Several upper peninsula dealers, including George Bergman and Charles Gafner of Escanaba, attended the convention of agents of Purina Mills, held in St. Louis this week.

The other dealers in attendance were: Joseph J. Kuber, Menominee; Carl P. Hanson, Wallace; Otto Thesserkauf, Menominee; George Rubein, Marquette; Joseph La Fromboise, Gladstone.

They visited the famous Purina Experimental Farm in the foothills of the Ozarks, 40 miles from St. Louis, observing the various practical feeding trials conducted there in the interests of livestock and poultry feeders.

Ramsay MacDonald says the man who coined the phrase, "A war to end war," was a fool. Maybe. But what about us folks that believed it?

HELP PLEDGED FOR INDUSTRY TO END CHAOS

he overwhilming majority of our population.

Wages Too Low

I therefore, ask you, who represent in all probability the majority of the employers of the nation, to refrain from further reduction in the wages of your employees and I ask you also to increase your wage scales in conformity with and simultaneous with the rise of the level of commodity prices in so far as this lies within your power.

It is a simple fact that the average of the wage scale of the nation has gone down during the past four years more rapidly than the cost of living. It is essential, as a matter of national justice, that the wage scale should be brought back to meet the cost of living and that this process should begin now and not later.

My second request has to do with bringing order out of chaos. During the past four years what previously had been considered to be an orderly industrial system has degenerated into one of the highest disorder. You and I acknowledge the existence of unfair methods of competition, of cut throat prices and of general chaos. You and I agree that this condition must be rectified and that order must be restored. The attainment of that objective depends upon your willingness to cooperate with one another to this end and also your willingness to cooperate with your government.

Must Cooperate

In almost every industry an overwhelming majority of the units of the industry are wholly willing to work together to prevent over production, to prevent unfair wages, to eliminate improper working conditions. In the past success in attaining these objectives has been prevented by a small minority of units in many industries. I can assure you that you will have the cooperation of your government in bringing these minorities to understand that their unfair practices are contrary to a sound public policy.

My third request is of a somewhat different nature though it has an important bearing on the other two. It is human nature to view a problem in terms of the particular existence and interest of the company or the business with which one is personally associated. It is, therefore, not unnatural that the various industries of the country should apply this same point of view to themselves. And yet I call your attention to what must be clear to all of us; that each and all of you in your own units and your own industries are but an integral part of a great whole and that our national economy must be expressed in terms of the whole rather than in terms of the unit.

It is ultimately of little avail to any of you to be temporarily properous while others are permanently depressed. I ask that you translate in terms of the nation rather than in terms of a particular industry, that you have the vision to lay aside special and selfish interests, to think of and act for a well rounded national recovery.

May I take this opportunity to express my special appreciation of the fine cooperation which I have had from your president, Mr. Harriman, and from his associates. He has felt free to call on me and I have felt free to call on him. In that spirit the nation is working itself out of its troubles. In that spirit we shall succeed.

HARRIS NEWS

Harris, Mich.—Clare Rood, assistant club leader, stated before an overcrowded auditorium at the Harris high school: "I believe that the Harris school has the most splendid exhibit of handicraft work in the upper peninsula." The exhibit room of handicraft was filled with beautiful furniture made by the Harris boys with their small lot of crude tools. Especially worthy of mention was the kitchen cabinet made by Edward Palka, a wardrobe made by Alphonse Houle, a cedar chest made by Edward Palarski, a cedar chest made by Harvey Bellefeuil, and a pier cabinet made by Robert Dault. had been received. Officials noted without comment the increase in the British fund for stabilizing the pound.

Lira Is Stable

The financial and monetary problems in connection with the economic conference occupied the American and Italian representatives in a long consultation at the state department which included Secretary Hull, Signor Jung, Ambassador Augusto Rosso of Italy and Breckenridge Long, new ambassador to Rome.

Later in the day these groups transferred their activities across the street to the White House where President Roosevelt took over the leading role in the conversations.

One of the conferees said Italy held a peculiarly strong position in any attempt to stabilize the world's currency. He explained that Mussolini has resolutely preserved the stability of the lira and that Italy accordingly is in a position to help other nations back to a standardized currency.

Arrangements were made meanwhile for receiving tomorrow the sixth delegation to arrive for the conferences with President Roosevelt. It will be the German group headed by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank.

Federal Officers Help Chicago Put Run On Racketeer

Chicago, May 4 (AP)—The federal government stepped in to help today as Chicago businessmen began organizing to break the grip of racketeers of legitimate industry.

The district attorney's office seized the books of the Chicago Teamsters Union, allegedly operated by outlaw officers for two years, to search for evidence on which to base income tax evasion charges.

George Roy Baker, asserted to be the duly elected president, took over the union with the aid of six followers two days ago and ousted John Sheridan, declaring him an agent of "Public Enemy" Murray Humphreys and others.

Baker declared the gangsters had taken hundreds of thousands of dollars from the union, and government prosecutors planned the same action as that which sent Al Capone and others to prison.

Twenty six leaders in the cleaning and dyeing industry, crippled by gangsters since Capone began collecting 50 cents for each garment cleaned, met in secret session and pledged themselves to drive out racketeers.

Representatives of other business were reported taking similar action with the assistance of the employers' association.

Convicted Robber Battles Officers

Kalamazoo, Mich., May 4 (AP)—Angered when he was questioned by officials, a prisoner who had just been sentenced to Michigan state prison today turned on Sheriff Charles W. Struble and two deputies, threw dishes and battled with them for several minutes, and finally was subdued after inflicting painful injuries on the three.

The prisoner, Clinton J. Peterson, had been sentenced in circuit court with two others to serve from 14 to 15 years for looting a safe in a Vicksburg, Mich., elevator February 14. Sheriff Struble said Peterson became enraged when he questioned him about information necessary to his commitment papers.

Pulitzer Prize Awards Given To 5 Authors

New York, May 4 (AP)—A Tennessee novelist, two university professors, a newspaperman-turned-playwright, and an Illinois-Connecticut poet have won the $6,000 in Pulitzer prizes in letters for 1932.

The awards, as announced tonight at the annual dinner of the friends of the Princeton library are:

For the best novel published during the year by an American author, $1,000, to "The Store" by T. S. Stribling.

For the original American play, performed in New York, which shall best represent the educational value and power of the state, $1,000, to "Both Your Houses" by Maxwell Anderson.

For the best book of the year upon the history of the United States, $2,000, to "The Significance of Sections in American history" by Frederick J. Turner.

For the best American biography teaching patriotism and unselfish services to the people, illustrated by an eminent example, excluding as too obvious the names of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, $1,000 to "Grover Cleveland" by Allan Nevins.

For the best volume of verse published during the year by an American author, $1,000, to "Conquistador" by Archibald Mac Leish.

Professor Turner, who was 70 years old, died in California last year. Nevins and Anderson are in their early forties. Stribling is 52.

In its findings, the jury gave these reasons for the various selections:

The novel:

"Preference has been given to 'The Store' because of its sustained interest, and because of the convincing and comprehensive picture it presents of life in an inland southern community during the middle eighties of the last century."

The play:

"This drama concerns the efforts of a newly-elected representative at Washington to combat the raiding of the national treasury by the appropriations committee. The spirit of the play is idealistic it breathes a fine indignation, but it is so conducted that legitimate entertainment values are not lost, and the characters speak and act with convincing naturalness."

The history:

"This is a selection of studies chosen by certain of the friends of Professor Turner from among his works. They treat important aspects of the evolution of American civilization in a thorough and fresh way, are based upon a wide reading of sources, and are clear and careful in their point of view."

The biography:

"A book of value, in the first place, because it supplies what has been needed, a dispassionate and comprehensive survey of the subject. Cleveland is portrayed at full length and he is impartially adjusted to his time. It makes a substantial contribution to our political biography and should prove of service for a long time to the lay reader and to the historian."

The verse:

"'Conquistador,' extremely modern in its technique, is on the whole the best poem that has been submitted this year."

the defense of the farmers arrested at LeMars and Denison, Iowa.

Officials of the association began preparations for notifying the members in the twenty states into which they said the holiday movement has spread since its inception a year ago.

States which President Reno said now are organized in the holiday movement include Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri, Oklahoma, South Dakota, North Dakota, Nebraska, Ohio, Texas, Kansas, New York, Colorado, Indiana, Maryland and Delaware.

The strike last year to halt transportation of farm products to market brought violence in several state, principally Iowa, South Dakota and Minnesota.

Struck By Truck, Little Boy Dies In Hart Accident

Hart, Mich., May 4 (AP)—Two-year-old Richard Trierweiler was injured fatally tonight by a truck which carried him on the bumper for 150 feet and then sped on.

A few hours later, Paul Anderson, 29, driver for a Muskegon automobile parts company, was arrested in Muskegon and returned to Hart over his protests that he had not been near this town. He was arrested on the strength of descriptions of the truck supplied by witnesses to the accident. Muskegon officers said one headlight on his truck was broken. Glass in the street at the scene of the accident here indicated that a head lamp on the truck that struck the child was broken by the impact.

The Trierweiler boy ran across the street ahead of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Trierweiler, who was pushing a baby carriage in which was a younger child. He had nearly reached safety when he was struck, suffering head injuries which caused his death a few hours later.

Mrs. Trierweiler, who is separated from her husband, has two other small children.

Mother Of Iron Mt. Minister Is Injured At St. Petersburg

Iron Mountain, May 4 (Special)—Mrs. S. G. McConaughy, age 66, mother of the Rev. N. U. McConaughy, 1004 Prospect avenue, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, is in the Mound Park hospital at St. Petersburg, Fla., in a critical condition as the result of injuries received when she was struck by a street car in that city.

The Rev. McConaughy is leaving tonight for St. Petersburg.

Following the accident Mrs. McConaughy was taken to the hospital, where examination revealed a fractured skupll, a compound fracture of the left arm, and cuts and bruises about the body. Attending physicians are doubtful of her recovery.

H. W. Edwards, the motorman on the car which struck Mrs. McConaughy, said that she was standing a few feet beyond the west rail of the tracks.

"I rang the bell when I saw her standing in the street," the motorman said. "She apparently thought that my car was an automobile, and stepped directly in front of the car. The car struck her head and knocked her to one side.

Police said Edwards stopped the car within its length. He told the officers he was operating the car at about 10 to 15 miles an hour. He has been a motorist for the last eight year and has never had a serious accident.

Parts of an amplifying apparatus used by Mrs. McConaughy because of defective hearing were found in the street. Mrs. McConaughy's husband is secretary of the Shuffleboard club of St. Petersburg, and the couple has resided in that city for the last eight years, going there from New York.

Mrs. McConaughy is a sister of N. J. Upham, resident of St. Petersburg.

A somewhat different version of the story is revealed in accounts reaching the Rev. McConaughy. Five witnesses have been found, the Rev. McConaughy said, who claim that Mrs. McConaughy did not step in front of the car. She was trying to signal the motorman, these accounts say, but the latter did not stop the car.

The Rev. McConaughy added, however, that his mother has defective hearing. In addition, has for some time been suffering from an illness which, it is feared, may now be considerably aggravated by her injuries.

Acheson Appointed Woodin's Assistant

Washington, May 4, (AP)—Dean G. Acheson of Middletown, Connecticut, and Washington, D. C., was nominated today by President Roosevelt to be undersecretary of the treasury—the right-hand-man of Secreary Woodin.

The chief executive also sent to the senate the name of Dave Hennen Morris of New York, to be ambassador to Belgium, succeeding the veteran diplomat, Hugh S. Gibson, who was confirmed today as ambassador to Brazil.

It was said authoritatively that Gustav Bapst of Milwaukee, probably will be appointed to some diplomatic post.

Acheson succeeds Arthur A. Ballantine of New York, and will be in charge of administering the government's fiscal affairs.

Insurance Due Only If Health Record Is True

Better read over that policy!

Persons holding life insurance policies, particularly those issued during the past three years, as well as insurance solicitors and examiners, will be interested in the legal interpretation placed upon such policies in two cases brought before Judge Frank A. Bell in Marquette and Delta counties, and in which the court ruled that the insurance companies are not responsible for payment to beneficiaries whose original applications contain irregular entries.

Judge Bell commented upon the cases during the recent term of circuit court in this city when, talking officially with court officials and others, he said: "The supreme court of the state on various occasions, particularly in the last three-year period, has handed down decisions unfavorable to the insured and his or her beneficiaries in instances of this kind. It is something quite new to us in this district, only two cases of the kind having come before me in this circuit, one at Marquette and again recently at Escanaba.

Found For Companies

"In both cases the court found in favor of the plaintiffs, which were the insurance companies holding the policies. It is something of which I believe applicants for insurance as well as the insurance solicitors and examiners, should be advised."

The issue has to do specifically with the original application for insurance, in which, as is generally understood, the medical examiner asks definite questions relative to the applicant's health record. In the two cases mentioned, it was shown that the applicant had admitted previous medical attention, but the answer was given as "no" in the application, which is a part of the permanent record of the policy. It was principally on the basis of a showing to that effect that the insurance companies were relieved of the responsibility of payment to the beneficiaries of the deceased.

The Delta county case was that of Mrs. Ray Bennett against the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, in which the court ruled in favor of the defendant because the evidence showed that the plaintiff's husband, Ray Bennett, had made misstatements concerning the true condition of his health.

BANKER ARRESTED

Flint, May 4 (AP)—Don Maginn, 35, former assistant vice president of the Genesee County Savings Bank, is under arrest here on charges of embezzling $9,366.29 of the bank's funds. He stood mute in justice court arraignment and was held in $10,000 bond for examination May 12.

permitted to use their own "cooling cellars" as warehouses during the rush period. No more than two, and possibly one, brewery will be ready for beer deliveries next week, the commission has been informed.

The commission abandoned for the present any attempt to fix a price on beer at the breweries. Chairman Frank A. Picard emphasized, however, that the commission will not tolerate any move toward the formation of a combine to boost prices. Under the law the commission is granted broad powers in regulating prices.

Escanaba was named as the site for the upper peninsula branch office of the commission. Lower peninsula branches will be located at Detroit, Grand Rapids, and Saginaw.

Picard, in announcing the hour beer sales will be legalized, said persons retailing the beverage before that time will jeopardize their chances of obtaining licenses.

The commission set $20 as the per diem compensation for members of the executive committee and other commissioners detailed to special work.

Sonnenberg Flops For Joe Savoldi

Chicago, May 4 (AP)—Joe Savoldi of Three Oaks, Mich., claimant to the world's heavyweight wrestling championship, threw Gus Sonnenberg of New York in 54 minutes with a flying tackle at the Chicago Coliseum tonight. The match, under the new ruling of the Illinois state athletic commission, was billed as an exhibition, not a contest.

Savoldi weighed 200, Sonnenberg 205.

Glenn Munn, 224, Lincoln, Neb., defeated Vic Soldat, 215, Chicago, decision.

White Shrine Open To Master Masons

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 4 (AP)—The international convention of the Supreme White Shrine of Jerusalem voted tonight to open its membership to Master Masons without the requirement of membership in the Eastern Star. Heretofore such membership has been required of men as well as women to join the White Shrine.

The proposed change was the principal bone of contention in a day of debate over constitutional amendments.

Action on a proposed new system of charity work was postponed for one year while a committee continues its investigation.

litation, formed the third and probably the most important part of his request.

Not unmindful of labor's interest in the curtailment of services that might result in wholesale dismissal of employes, the president said:

"Such coordinator should also, in carrying out this policy, render useful service in maintaining railroad employment at a fair wage."

Considerable opposition already has been voiced by railway labor organizations, which claim that by eliminating services, hundreds of employes would become jobless.

The anti-trust laws are suspended for a year to permit the coordinator to carry out the purpose of the bill.

Joseph B. Eastman, a member of the interstate commerce commission, is likely to be named by President Roosevelt as the coordinator.

NECESSITY IS FACED

STERN necessity is forcing special tax legislation to the fore at Lansing. Faced by an empty treasury Gov. Comstock and the administration forces are demanding that new sources of taxation be tapped by immediate legislation, to meet the emergency.

The house taxation committee, on Wednesday, reported out a chain store taxation bill, in somewhat the same form as has been proposed and defeated at previous legislative sessions. At the same time pressure was brought to bear to bring out of committee the administration's sales and gross income tax measure which has been held in abeyance, pending the disposition of other legislation.

Lansing dispatches hint that the chain store taxation measure, whether with administration approval or not is not divulged—was brought to the floor of the house with recommendation of the committee for its passage, as an advanced step toward placating the objections of independent merchants to the proposed three cent general sales tax. The sales tax would effect chain store and independent merchants alike and in lower peninsula mercantile business circles there seems to exist a feeling that a further tax should be imposed, based on the number of stores conducted by chain organizations in the state. In previous legislatures this feeling has not been supported by the legislators and desperate attempts to enact such legislation have failed.

There exists now a pretty general knowledge that new sources of taxation must be found to raise a sum estimated at from $30,000,000 to $40,000,000, for the support of the state government, state institutions and to provide anything approaching adequate school aid. While the sales tax will be opposed vigorously by the different groups affected, there exists the unchallengeable necessity for the development of a new source of taxation and after the arguments are all presented it will likely be found that a sales and gross income tax, such as is proposed by Gov. Comstock, will prove about the most equitable tax that can be devised.

A special committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce spent several weeks in studying the measure and while recommendations were made by the committee as to several changes, the underlying principles of the measure were endorsed.

A sales tax has been adopted and is now functioning in several states and with the necessity for raising funds that is presented in this state, Michigan will likely be forced to follow their example.

SCIENCE DISCARDS 'CERTAINTIES'

BRIGHT young man of today who set out to get a good grounding in the sciences could easily be forgiven for concluding that he was being asked to discard all of his certainties and substitute a somewhat jumbled mess of probabilities, near-probabilities and wild guesses.

A decade or two ago science was dogmatic and positive. It set up certain "natural laws" and they were like the laws of the Medes and the Persians. Certain things were thus and so and no one need argue about it.

To appreciate how the picture has changed you need only consider a speech made in New York the other evening by Dr. Irving Langmuir, the 1932 Nobel Prize winner in chemistry.

During the last 20 years, he said, science has come to believe that "no natural law has absolute validity" and that "in no absolute sense can anything ever be predicted accurately." The law of cause and effect is no longer with us, and nothing in the universe is securely hitched.

"Some things may be more probable than others," he added, "but you can't say that anything is absolutely true."

It would be hard to overestimate the importance of this changed attitude, for it carries with it one of the profoundest revolutions that the human mind has ever been compelled to pass through. We are not through with that revolution yet; indeed, we have hardly passed its first phase; and before we complete it some of our concepts of man and nature and life and the universe are likely to be altered almost beyond recognition.

Nor is there anything in all of this to depress the speculative soul who likes to feel that there are values which material standards cannot assess and realities which human eyes cannot see. Indeed, the exact opposite is true. It is the ultramaterialist who is confounded by this change. How are you going to be dogmatic about the absolute dominion of material things when you cannot have one single certainty about them?

In its long climb up from darkness mankind has passed a great rise, and stands now facing limitless horizons. It has lost its old landmarks—but it has a marvelous chance for adventurous exploration.

EXPLOITING CHILDREN

PERHAPS the most appalling news of recent weeks came from Pennsylvania, where dispatches say several hundred boy and girl workers have walked out of shirt and pajama factories in an effort to end sweatshop conditions. A large percentage of these workers, it is stated, are under 16; some of them have been earning as little as 30 cents a week.

One girl of 15, the only member of a family of seven to have a job, has been working for 85 cents a week. Last winter, according to investigators for the Pennsylvania Department of Labor, child workers who complained that the shops were cold were told to "work faster and get warm."

In Russia, when the head of a factory is found guilty of antisocial practices, he is sometimes led out and shot. Once in a while one could almost wish that we had such a law in this country.

SPIRIT OF THE NAVY

WHATEVER may be said about the dirigibles used by the United States navy, there doesn't seem to be anything in particular wrong with the young men who make up their crews.

Moody E. Erwin, one of the Akron's three survivors, went to his home in Memphis, Tenn., for a month's furlough not long ago. Reporters, naturally enough, asked him a lot of questions about his experience; among other things they asked him if he had been scared by the crash.

"Scared?" he replied. "Were you ever in an auto crash? Did you have time to get scared? Did it get my nerve? Say, man, that's what the navy's for. It takes nerves out of you."

And so, in line with this talk, the young sailor has already applied for assignment to the crew of the new Macon.

If that sort of spirit is general, the navy may yet make a go of its big dirigibles.

BUSINESS SWINGS UPWARD

EVIDENCE that business is at last beginning to show signs of a revival is contained in a summary of general business conditions just issued by the Federal Reserve Board at Washington.

This report points out that there is now apparent an increase in the activities of commodity and security markets. The decline in the production and distribution of commodities late in February and early in March has been halted, and an upswing is taking place, reflected especially in the steel industry—which, you might remember, has always been regarded as a barometer of general business conditions.

All of this doesn't mean that good times will be here day after tomorrow. But it does seem to indicate that we are on the way back up.

News note says Buckingham Palace has 40 bedrooms. But somehow most of the international guests seem to go to the White House.

DARLING FOOL

(By NEA Service) BY MABEL McELLIOTT

CHAPTER XIII

Charles said "Hot!" and smiled. He wore no hat and the pallor of his skin was a thing Monnie noted subconsciously. Unlike Dan, who wore his sunburn with a swagger, Eustace never tanned but bore always, in spite of hatless horseback riding and mornings at golf, a kind of tropic indolence which suited him well. He wore, just now, the most elegant of careless white flannels and a blue coat.

"You look awfully cool," he said to the girl sitting on the low step, in the shadow of the honeysuckle vine.

Monnie scarcely stirred. She felt the smile with which she answered him to be a prodigious effort. There seemed to be no life in her at all these days. Tonight after a cold supper and after a shower she had slipped into one of her oldest party frocks—a blue lace of two seasons ago, unsuitable she felt for anything but the warmest night in Belvedere. She had not expected visitors but here, on her very doorstep, was the most elegant young man in town! She said with an effort, "Thanks. I don't feel at all cool."

She glanced up at him in the half dark, one flushed cheek resting on a slim, long-fingered hand, her breath coming and going quickly beneath the folds of soft lace. The bodice was cut rather low and the creamy skin of her neck and bosom glimmered above it. Her eyes, shadowed with weariness and heat, looked big and dark under their fringe of heavy lashes.

She asked him to sit down. He made a gesture toward the car in the shadows outside the gate and said slowly, "I'd thought perhaps you'd come for a drive—out where it's cool."

"Mother and Mark have gone to a strawberry festival," Monnie said with apparent irrelevance. "And Kay—Kay's over at 'Rissy's. I wonder if I ought—"

"We'll be back in an hour," Charles said. "Why not?"

She debated this. She had refused to go to the festival. She had said she was too tired but the real reason was her desire to avoid people. Prying people who would ask questions. About Dan. About everything.

With this man it was different. She could be easy with him. He was—well, a friend! She felt that. Splendid in his way, of course, but not, Monnie thought, the type to stir her pulses.

As he held out his hand to assist her, she gave him her own. A child's clasp; Charles Eustace felt, half piqued and half amused.

"Believe I will," Monnie murmured softly. "If you'll excuse this—this ridiculous costume."

He gave her a mocking bow, practiced eyes taking in every detail of her appearance. The lace had been adroitly cut to show every exquisite line of the girl's figure.

"It's a lovely dress," he told her. Monnie widened her eyes at his tone. There was something not quite cordial about it. Did he think she was fishing for compliments?

She reddened to the roots of her hair and in that instant Charles Eustace regretted his discourtesy. Used as he was to the finished wiles of more sophisticated women, he had carelessly bulked this young girl with the crowd.

"I'm sorry," he said awkwardly. "I really mean it. It is a lovely dress—"

"Of course, it is old," Monnie faltered, hurt by she knew not what. "It's a party dress, too, and unsuitable—but I was so hot—I had nothing else so cool—I didn't expect anyone—"

She hated herself for it, but suddenly she was in tears.

"Do forgive me. I'm an idiot—but I seem to be all tired out and we were so busy today at the store—"

A big clean handkerchief was pressed into her hands. She straightened herself, mopping at the persistent tears, trying to smile again. But it had not been just that. Both she and the man knew that his tone was the lash which had cut her deeply. Charles Eustace said, slowly, "Monica, you do know I'm your friend, don't you?"

She stared at him. "I hope so. Of course."

He flicked at the bushes beside him with a willow switch he had picked up.

"It's only—only that I get into one of my bad moods now and again, and say things I don't mean. I did mean your frock was lovely. But some devil of sarcasm put that edge on my voice. I don't know why. Or yes, I do. I'm used to the sort of woman who invites comment on her attire. I thought, for an instant, that was what you were doing. I ask your pardon—"

"But even if I had," Monnie began, puzzled, "it's no crime, surely, to want compliments."

He laughed on an uncomfortable note.

"Of course not. Monica, you don't know anything about me. I've got a wretched temper. I've been through some bad times. Some day perhaps I'll bore you by telling you about them."

"It wouldn't bore me in the least," the girl told him demurely. Her tears had dried now. The little flare up had only served to heighten her color.

"Wait just a minute. I'll get a scarf for my hair," she said, going back into the darkened house. She paused to scribble a line for her mother and in that instant the telephone rang stridently. Her instant thought, as always, waking and sleeping, was "Dan!" She put one hand to her breast with an unconsciously dramatic gesture and called out to the man in the shadows, "I'll answer that. Hope you don't mind waiting."

Lifting the receiver, she was conscious of an almost unbearable feeling of tension. But it was not Dan's deep voice that came to her over the wire.

"Oh, Miss Austice. Yes. How are you?"

She put cordiality into her tone. Miss Austice was an old family friend.

Charles Eustace, lounging against the pillar outside, heard a note of alarm in the quick, terse words that followed.

"What? Yes—yes. Please tell me. Outside Miller's garage just five minutes ago? There must be some mistake. She's at Rissoy's! Thank you. I know you won't. Yes, I'll do something about it—at once—good-by—"

All the color now drained from her cheeks, she returned to Charles Eustace.

"Something terrible—I don't know what to do!"

He put out a brown, lean hand, touching hers. "Tell me, I'll help you."

Eyes big and dark and unseeing she stared at him.

"It's Kay. She's gone—with some man. Miss Antice happened to see them. She's not a gossip. She's a real friend. They had bags, she said. The man was asking the best way to Waynesboro.

Good Lord!" Charles said. "Jump in. I know that road well. We can catch up with them."

Binding the scarf she had picked up from the hall table about her head with stumbling fingers, Monnie obeyed. The scents and sound of a June night received them, as the motor purred and the powerful little car plunged down Denny street. Everywhere—everywhere were little groups on porch and lawn. Lights in little houses. Laughter. The music of a radio. Monnie thought, blindly, "Little Kay. Little Kay. I've got to save her."

"Miss Anstice didn't happen to mention what sort of car it was, did she?" inquired Charles, expertly swerving to avoid a boy on a bicycle.

"No, she she—" Monnie's teeth were chattering now, as if with cold. "I'm so frightened," she interpolated. "What if we

Fanned into a fury by high winds and with the grass as dry as tinder, forest fires of great magnitude are raging in almost every part of Delta and surrounding counties. One of the heaviest losers up to the present time is the Beaver Timber Company, whose entire holdings have been wiped out, including 150 cars of posts and ties. Surrounded by flames leaping a hundred feet in the air the I. Stephenson Company's camp No. 4 was wiped out.

After completing a three months course at the Wisconsin Institute of Horology, Matt Petersen, of the local jewelery firm of Blomstrom & Petersen has returned to his home in this city.

Roy Shane of Rapid River enjoys the distinction of receiving the highest mark ever given an applicant for a second grade teacher's certificate in Delta county, John Lemmer of this city, who also teaches at Rapid River, passed the examination with the next highest mark.

Twenty-one musicians of the city have met and after receiving the consent of John J. Saurwine, who for a number of years has directed bands in this city, to again lead the organization, a special committee was named to interest all musicians in the city in the organization. Members of the committee are: Charles Fournier, William Coy, Edward Specht and Chester Schram.

The first general tryout for positions on the two city teams Escanaba will enter in the proposed Delta county league, will be held today under the directions of Captains Fred Olmsted and Joe Hoffman.

Ald. R. L. Cantlin was suddenly stricken while working at his barber shop with an ailment diagnosed as neuralgia of the spine by Drs. M. P. Fenelon and L. R. Kratze, who were called.

HOME IS BEST

It's fine to run, it's fun to play,
But when the sunset ends the day
It's nice to have a father, some
Place of your own to which to come.

Yes, when it's darker in the sky,
And other people hurry by,
It's nice to have a mother, know
That she is waiting for you, though.

It's fun to play, it's fine to run,
But when the time to play is done
It's nice to tell the boys goodnight
And up the street to see a light.

My mother's always telling me
How thankful people ought to be
For all their blessings and the rest,
And I guess home's about the best.

Trenary Woman's Club Presents Annual Program

Trenary, Mich., (Special)—The Women's Club of Trenary held its achievement day exhibit and program Tuesday afternoon and evening, May 2 in the gymnasium of the high school. A large number of about eighty, women and men were present for the 6:30 dinner which was served by eight high school girls. Miss Margaret Harris, assistant state home demonstration agent was present and introduced the speaker, Miss Mildred Majors, of Marquette. Miss Majors gave an interesting talk about her trip around the world and three years spent in China. She showed many interesting articles which she gathered while there. Solos were given by Mrs. E. F. Brasier and Mr. Moon. A selection by a quartet, composed of Mrs. Brasier, Miss Esther Hulburt, Mrs. Gertrude Drury and Mr. Moon was much enjoyed. Many enjoyed the group singing. Games followed the singing, and dancing completed the program.

This year's club project was the making of the wardrobe with particular emphasis on accessories. Many interesting outfits as well as separate dresses were shown. Achievement certificates were given out by Miss Harris to those who completed the work.

The dinner committee was composed of Mrs. J. D. McLaughlin, chairman, Mrs. Phil Viton, Mrs. Walter Cunningham, Mrs. Norman Hall, Mrs. Wm. Trenary, Mrs. Steve Slambo and Miss May Moreland.

The exhibit committee was Mrs. Carl Case, chairman, Mrs. Gertrude Drury, Mrs. Ben Gregg and Mrs. V. C. Vaughan.

Mrs. Vance Davis had charge of the program.

It is interesting to note that the club has grown from one of five members five years ago to one of over thirty members now with an average of about twenty-five members in attendance at each meeting.

Williams Receives "Wild" Wolf Stories

The western end of the upper peninsula has several possible candidates for a "Tall Story club," according to H. P. Williams, leader of predatory animal control.

His office has been receiving some "wild" wolf stories, Mr. Williams has reported.

"One report states that Mr. 'X' went out to call on a neighbor one evening and was stalked by a savage timber wolf; the wolf being only ten feet away and was ready to make an attack when several men heard the cries and rushed to the rescue of Mr. 'X.'

"Another report states that a cow gave birth to a calf which was part coyote."

"Do the Michigan coyotes have hoofs?" Mrs. Williams is asking.

Trapper Proves His

However, Boone Howard, state hunter working in the vicinity of Alger county, was able to prove his wolf story. For some time Howard has been attempting to capture a large wolf which had been causing damage in his territory. The wolf had succeeded in escaping the traps several times. During March Howard caught the wolf which became enmeshed in a double set of traps. The wolf, unusual in size, was almost white.

Twelve coyotes, a bobcat and nine foxes were captured by state hunters working under Williams during March, a record much higher than for the same month in 1932. In addition the hunters took 87 porcupines, 17 owls, 31 crows, one weasel, nine woodchuck, and two hawks. A bobcat and a fox were stolen from the trap lines.

Escanaba City Council Receives Applications For 3.2 Beer Licenses

The Escanaba city council, at last night's meeting, began to receive applications for licenses to handle beer, although formal applications will need to be made later when the official blanks are received from the state liquor control commission.

Applications are to be made in writing to City Manager T. F. Kessler. It is expected that necessary forms will be received by next Monday, but it was decided to accept the informal applications beforehand in order to speed up the work of investigating the record of applicants, to determine their fitness. Applicants must receive the endorsement of the local governing body before permits will be issued by the state liquor control commission.

Owen Gallagher First

Owen Gallagher was the first to make application in writing last night. He plans to come under the "hotel' clause of the beer law, with his establishment to be located at 1408 Ludington street.

Leonard Murray and George Hirn have formed a partnership, and applied to operate a beer garden at 330 South Tenth street. The building is to be enlarged to come within the 3,000 square feet area provision, governing the operation of beer gardens.

The city council, it was explained, has no authority in the licensing of wholesalers and manufacturers, and applications for such licenses are to be made direct to the state liquor control commission. Announcement was made that the upper peninsula branch office of the commission will be located in Escanaba, and, it is expected, the office will have a staff of three or four persons.

Budget Hearing May 18

The annual budget was discussed briefly at last night's meeting, and public hearing on it was set for May 18. The public hearing on the proposal to revise the zoning ordinance will be held at the same meeting.

City Manager T. F. Kessler informed the council that examinations of city employees were being made daily, in conformance with the city's plan to carry its own compensation insurance.

Because of the stringent condition of city finances, the council decided it could not make the usual appropriation to the Women's Relief Corps for the Memorial Day observance program. Last year the city gave $62.50 for this purpose.

The city manager also reported to the council that the state highway department was ready to enter into an agreement for reimbursing the city for the repairing of state trunk line No. 35, or South Tenth street. He also suggested that a similar program probably could be worked out for the surface treatment of that section of Ludington street on the trunk line, and the council authorized him to take up the matter with the highway department.

The board of trustees of Carnegie library presented its annual budget for the year, calling for an expenditure of $9,000, or $1,000 less than the budget allowance last year. A statement from the library showed that the circulation was 56,575 in 1924; 86,952 in 1930; 100,412 in 1931; 115,032 in 1932, and 130,186 in 1933.

Pioneer Dies

Marquette—Mortimer McCarthy, 78 years old and a resident of Marquette for more than half a century, died early yesterday morning at his home, 345 Alger street, after a month's illness.

Mr. McCarthy had lived in Marquette 52 years, coming here from his birthplace in Ireland. He was employed by the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway for more than 40 years.

The salary of a Civil Service employe cannot be garnisheed, according to the Civil Service Commission.

Fire Fighters Get 15 Cents Per Hour

Fifteen cents an hour again will be the prevailing wage for men hired to fight fire in case of emergency, it is announced by Colonel W. A. Bergin, chief conservation officer in the upper peninsula.

Under the authority of an act adopted by the present session of the state legislature, the conservation commission is authorized to pay a minimum of 15 cents and a maximum of 30 cents an hour for imprest labor for fighting forest fires. The rate during the 1933 season will be 15 cents.

Because of the lack of funds during the 1932 season the department found itself unable to pay the 30-cent rate which had been established for imprest labor. As a result it drew its men from welfare lists at a rate of 15 cents and had no difficulty in obtaining all the men it needed. The low pay rate was also established in the hope that the remuneration would not be sufficiently attractive to induce arson in order to obtain jobs. As a result the proportion of incendiary fires last year dropped.

The new law permits the conservation department, in cases of emergency, to call any male over the age of 18 to fight fires and provides a penalty for anyone refusing to answer such a call.

Welfare lists will again be used as much as posible to secure help in fighting fires but in cases of emergency fire wardens will draft labor.

TURKISH TOBACCO
comes to this country in bales. The leaves are small and tightly packed. Each bale contains about 40,000 leaves.
DOMESTIC TOBACCO
is stored in huge wooden hogsheads. Each hogshead contains about 1000 pounds of tobacco.

A flavor that neither possesses alone

Turkish tobacco is to Cigarettes what Seasoning is to Food

Early in the 17th century, tobacco seed from America was taken to Turkey. Different soil, different climate, different temperatures night and day, and different farming methods produced an entirely new tobacco—small in size, but very rich and aromatic.

This tobacco is known generally as Turkish tobacco; but there are as many varieties of Turkish as there are kinds of apples.

Four certain spots are famous for the quality of their Turkish tobacco—Xanthi and Cavalla in Greece; Samsoun and Smyrna in Turkey. And it is principally from these places that our buyers get the Turkish for Chesterfield.

These Turkish tobaccos are blended, in just the right amount, with Domestic tobaccos. It is this blending and cross-blending of just the right amount of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos which gives Chesterfield a flavor that neither possesses alone.

Program of Art Exhibit Feature Final Meeting

An enjoyable program, with a talk by Miss Lois Gaut, supervisor of art, and an exhibit of the art work of the children of the various grades were features of the final meeting of the year of the Franklin Parent-Teacher association held Wednesday evening at the school.

The program numbers included a violin solo by Francis Kailin and a vocal solo by Albert St. Peter with Miriam Lund playing the accompaniments; a solo dance by Grace Mulvenna, a jig by Grace Mulvenna and Helen Schram, and a Russian dance by Jean Nelson.

Miss Gaut's talk was on "Art in the Grade Schools," and in it she presented an interesting and enjoyable manner just what the department attempts to teach grade children and the system of teaching which is followed. Her main points were illustrated with examples.

The art exhibit which was arranged in each room and it received much praise from the visiting members of the unit and their friends.

The meeting closed with a social and a lunch which was served in the kindergarten room.

Church Events

Christian Science Churches

"Adam and Fallen Man" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 7.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Rom. 8:2): "For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (P. 260): "The great truth in the Science of being, that the real man was, is, and ever shall be perfect, is incontrovertible; for if man is the image, reflection, of God, he is neither inverted not subverted, but upright and Godlike."

SENATE OKEHS O. L. CHAPMAN

Relative of Escanabans New Ass't Secretary of Interior

The senate Wednesday afternoon confirmed the appointment of Oscar L. Chapman, Denver, Colo. attorney, as Assistant Secretary of the Interior. Mr. Chapman is brother-in-law to Rev. Dr. and Mrs. C. Albert Lund and Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Anderson of Escanaba. Mrs. Chapman who died last year in Denver, was a sister to Mrs. Lund and Mrs. Anderson.

Besides being a practicing attorney in Denver, Mr. Chapman has long been active in Colorado politics as a liberal democrat. In the past two years he has managed successfully the senatorial campaigns of both of the senators from Colorado now incumbent, Edward P. Costigan and Alva B. Adams.

Interested in Conservation

At the present time Mr. Chapman is president of the State Board of Control of Colorado. He has long interested himself in social legislation, first as chief probation officer and referee of the juvenile court of Denver which came into national prominence under Judge Ben Lindsay. In addition to his social service work in Colorado, Mr. Chapman is a member of the National Child Welfare committee of the American Legion.

The public land policy of Mr. Chapman is essentially the same as that of Secretary Ickes. He has always been an active proponent of a public domain policy for the conservation of national resources, like that originally enunciated by Theodore Roosevelt when he was president of the United States and later brought to the fore as a national issue by present Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania.

It was while serving in the United States navy during the world war that Mr. Chapman met Mrs. Chapman, the Miss Olga Edholm, whom he married in 1920.

Mr. Chapman was born in South Boston, Va., thirty six years ago. He did undergraduate work at the University of Mexico and took his degree in law at the University of Denver.

Mr. Chapman is one of the youngest members of President Roosevelts so-called junior cabinet.

Wendell Lund of Escanaba, who is now doing graduate work at Princeton university, has been offered the position of personal secretary to Mr. Chapman, the new assistant secretary of interior. Mr. Lund has not decided as yet whether he will accept the appointment.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the stomach. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

THEATRES

John Darrow and Sally Blane head the large cast of popular players in "Probation," the new Chesterfield drama, which will be the feature attraction at the Delft Theatre for two days, beginning today.

John Darrow, a native of New York, made his debut in motion pictures after a successful stage career that culminated in his appearance in "Young Sinners" at the Belasco Theatre. His screen success was almost instantaneous, and his rise to stardom was unusually rapid. Among his best-known pictures are "Hell's Angels," "The Lady Refuses" "Everything's Rosy," and "Fanny Foley Herself." Sally Blane, who was Betty Jane Young in Salida, Colorado, where she was born, stepped into fine with the first rank stars last season with her leading roles in "The Star Witness," "The Spirit of Notre Dame," "A Dangerous Affair," and "X Marks the Spot."

J. Farrell MacDonald, who impersonated the late Knute Rockne, in "The Spirit of Notre Dame," has another important role in this, the second picture he has made with Sally Blane. He has been acting in motion pictures since 1907.

Eddie Phillips, who broke into movies as Mary Pickford's leading man by fooling her into the belief that he was an Italian, will be seen in the leading role in "Probation," a part similar to those he has played recently in "Big Boy," "Chasing Rainbows," "Dancing Sweeties," and "Dream House." Prominent, also, in the cast is Clara Kimball Young, a screen star since 1912.

Board of Education Submits Its Budget To County Tax Body

The Escanaba board of education was the first governmental body to submit a copy of its tentative budget to the special county tax commission, which will determine what proportion of the 15 mills tax levy will be allocated to the various taxing units.

All budgets and statements must be in the hands of the commission by May 10. County Treasurer Ralph R. Olsen is chairman of the body, the other members being: C. E. Hawkins, C. U. Woolpert, W. J. Schmit and H. J. Skoglquist.

Expenditure of $211,829.40

The budget of the Escanaba board of education calls for an estimated expenditure of $211,829.40 for the fiscal year 1933-1934. The estimated income from outside sources is $76,900, leaving the sum of $134,929.40 to be raised by taxation and state aid.

In submitting its budget, the finance committee of the board of education stated: "Under estimated incomes your committee has been forced to be conservative because of reports from Lansing on the general financial situation. Tuition, rents and miscellaneous revenues have been shrunk for reasons that are too obvious to require explanation. All employes of the board have accepted an approximate cut in salary of 30 per cent. In addition to this there is a further saving in the various activities."

Air Barn Dance Troupe To Come To Delft Today

The Hoosier Sod Busters and Hiram Higsby, novelty instrumentalists and vocalists from WLS, Chicago, will be at the Delft theatre in person today and Saturday, offering their act which runs the gamut of entertainment. Hiram, who claims he made his mother laugh before he could talk, is truly a natural born comedian.

Born in Dogholler, Kansas, on a wheat farm, he spent his first 19 years at good, hard farm labor, but finally left the waving wheat fields to enter Haskell university, where he took dramatics. The team of Hiram and Henry has played on vaudeville circuits from coast to coast, breaking many house records.

The Hoosier Sod Busters are two boys of the sod who had a lot of time between raising pigs and chickens to practice on the guitar and harmonica. When they became real exponents of their chosen arts they auditioned for the radio.

TINKER REPORTS ON FOREST JOB

6,000 Volunteers Will Work in Lake States Region

"Six thousand volunteers of President Roosevelt's Conservation Corps will be working in the National Forests of this region, planting trees, clearing firebreaks, removing fire hazards, building improvements, constructing roads and trails, preventing disease infection and insect infestation in the timber, thinning over-crowded stands of trees, and doing other necessary work," said Regional Forester E. W. Tinker.

"Many of them are now in some of the 30 forest camps already approved, others are on the way, and still others are in the Army conditioning camps at Fort Sheridan, Camp Custer, or Fort Snelling. Fifteen camps have been located in Minnesota on the Superior and Chippewa National Forests, five in Wisconsin on the Nicolet, and ten in Michigan on the Huron, Marquette, Hiawatha and Ottawa National Forests.

Hiring 1150 Woodsmen

"Among the 6,000 forest workers, 1150 will be selected from the lists of the county welfare organization in the areas to be developed by the Emergency Conservation work," according to Mr. Tinker. These men live in or near the forests, have had actual experience in woods work, are definitely useful in the projects, and peculiarly entitled to share its advantages. They may be older and married or unmarried, but will have to be selected from the lists of unemployed compiled by the welfare organizations in or near the national forests of this region. Four hundred men of this class will be selected in Michigan; 250 in Wisconsin; and 500 in Minnesota.

Four departments of the Federal Government are cooperating to place 250,000 men at work in the Nation's Forests and Parks. The Department of Labor selects the men and has appointed a representative in each state to work with the local welfare organization. The War Department is charged with the examination, outfitting, and conditioning of the applicants; operation of the camps as to administration, housing, subsistence, sanitation, hospitalization, and recreational and spiritual activities. The Department of Agriculture, through the Forest Service, has charge of all work in the forests, and the department of the interior, through the park service, has charge of work in the parks.

Michigan's Quota 9750

Quotas which have been established for all states assign 9,750 to Michigan, 5,250 to Minnesota, and 6,000 to Wisconsin. A program of forest work camps for American Indians has been added to the emergency forestation program, but members selected for work in the Reservation will not be charged up against these quotas which were established for the state on a basis of population. Minnesota will have one camp in the consolidated Chippewa Reservation and one in the Red Lake Reservation. Wisconsin will have one each in the Lac lu Flambeau and Menominee Reservations.

"The employment conservation work is to be given primarily to young men between the ages of 18 and 25 who are citizens of the United States, unmarried, and unemployed, who wish to volunteer for this work and who wish to allot a substantial portion of their $30 monthly cash allowance to their dependents," according to the U. S. Department of Labor Bulletin. The purpose of the work is to build men as well as trees.

Training to Be Given

"Many of the young men enrolling have never had a job, have never had a chance to work, do not know how to handle tools or themselves in the woods," said Mr. Tinker. "Training and exercise in the Army conditioning camps will help to prepare the men for work in the forest camps. The experienced men selected from the local welfare lists will be scattered among the crews of inexperienced workers, and should be of considerable assistance in training the 'town boys' to use their tools safely and effectively," continued Mr. Tinker.

Conservation Corps workers are now in the Marquette National Forest camps a Raco and Strongs; the Hiawathaland National Forest camps at Kentucky and Steuben; and the Ottawa National Forest camp at Kenton, all in Upper Michigan. In lower Michigan the Mack Lake, Silver Creek, and Glennie camps of the Huron National Forest have been manned. The Brink's camp of the Moquah Division of the Nicolet National Forest in Wisconsin has received over 200 men from Fort Sheridan. The Kenton Camp also was filled from Fort Sheridan, and all the other camps were manned from Camp Custer.

Considerable bootlegging of gasoline reported in Pennsylvania. Bootleggers are probably selling it as whisky with nobody the wiser.

Dusty Roads Spell Waste

With all the money taxpayers have invested in highways in the past few years, must they now suffer the loss of these splendid roads that they have bought and paid for?

Millions have been invested in improved highways. No one regrets it. Everyone is benefited by them. Must we stand by and watch them go to pieces through lack of proper maintenance? Must we pay the cost of false economy? Must we waste ten to save one dollar?

Dusty roads spell waste, danger and discomfort. Expensive surface material is ground to dry powder and blown away one thin layer at a time. Gradually dry road surfaces disintegrate, become rough, broken through and unsafe.

Yet, by applying moisture absorbing Dowflake at slight cost, the surface can be held and both the loss of valuable road materials and the high cost of replacing them can be avoided. Know the truth about highway maintenance economy. Write for our booklet, "How to Control Dust."

SENIORS GIVE PLAY TONIGHT

Large Audience Expected to View Auntie's Marriage Knot"

"Auntie's Marriage Knot," annual production of the senior class, will be presented tonight in the high school auditorium. The curtain will rise promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

A matinee performance was given yesterday afternoon for grade school pupils and the applause of the youthful audience clearly demonstrated their approval.

The play is a three-act comedy with a clever plot and plenty of laughs from start to finish. Members of the cast have been working hard under the direction of Wm. H. Bainter and everything is in readiness for the opening curtain. Stage settings and lighting will be cared for by members of the public speaking department and music will be in charge of R. N. Haskins.

Advance ticket sale has been conducted by the junior student council and the senior class and indications are that a large number will view the production. Seats are being reserved at the Dehlin drug store.

Among those receiving the coveted emblems were Lester Carter, Charles Dehlin, Aaron Jahnke, James Danitz, Harry Kircher, William Wright, Edward Murphy, and captain-elect Francis Weingartner. Presentation was made by Coach Eldon Kell.

Two short sketches from "Auntie's Marriage Knot," senior class production to be given tonight, were presented by members of the cast in order to advertise the play. A short talk by Prin. C. C. Strickland was also a feature of the program.

The gathering was the last assembly of the year and was in the nature of a farewell to the seniors.

Board Votes To Operate School Playground Again

The children's playground will again be operated this summer and a director engaged to look after the children and outline and supervise the activities, it was decided at a meeting of the board of education Wednesday evening.

Board members believe that some provision should be made for supervised play for the children during the summer months and that the playground is the proper place to care for them during this period.

The director, not yet selected, will receive only a nominal wage and expenses will be kept at a minimum.

Mrs. Sarah Mason, who has been a guest for several weeks at the home of Mrs. Webster Marble, left yesterday for her home in Marquette. Mrs. Mason is a former resident of this city.

TEACHERS TO RECEIVE PAY

Ten Per Cent of Turner Money Is Expected Here Today

Fears that Gladstone school teachers were going to join the ranks of the unpaid were allayed yesterday when word was received here that a check for a portion of the Turner money due the school district would arrive here today or Saturday.

Should the check arrive today teachers will receive their checks which are due today. Should it fail to arrive until Saturday, the teachers will be paid on Monday.

The check will be for 10 per cent of the amount of Turner money apportioned the Gladstone school district. This is slightly under $2200 and will care for this pay roll.

Prospects are that teachers will not be paid on time for the final two weeks of the year, it was stated yesterday, as no immediate revenue is foreseen. There is a possibility, however, that collection of delinquent taxes will care for this.

Although the schools have spent considerably less than the amount appropriated, a shortage exists due to the extremely heavy school tax delinquency which amounts to approximately 50 per cent of the total levy.

HOLD ANNUAL H. S. CARNIVAL

Public Invited to Attend Fascinating Indoor Shows Tonight

Manistique high school will be the scene of much merry-making and hilarity this evening with the presentation of the annual high school carnival. Sideshows, being put on by practically every high school organization, are said to contain some new wrinkles which even the best of ingenitous professional showmen have not thus far devised, thus assuring the public of a fine brand of entertainment. The festivities will begin at 7:30 o'clock and will run continually until 9:30 p. m. when a big vaudeville show will be held in the auditorium.

The building will be gaily decorated in carnival colors, bands will play, and there will be the usual array of rauous barkers juveigling the public into their respective shows. In addition to the side shows the Hi-Y club will operate its customary jitney dance.

Admissions Reduced

General admission to the building will be gratis; prices for side show attractions have been reduced this year so that two tickets may be purchased for the usual price of one. Vaudeville show admissions will be only slightly higher than sideshow tickets. Proceeds derived from the carnival will go toward Student Association to make up the deficit incurred by the various school activities. The vaudeville program is as follows:

Music, High School Band.
Monologue Song and Dance, Charlie Cook.
Acrobatics, Wygal Sisters.
Baritone Solo, William Walters of Munising.
Trombone Solo, Cay Eklund of Munising.
Dance, Charlie Cook.
Girls' Senior High School Octette.
Trumpet Solo, Emil Aanderud of Munising.
Boys' Junior High Octette.
Play, "In Search of a Husband."
Charlie Cook will be master of ceremonies.

Assault, Battery Case Is Dismissed

An assault and battery case brought by Ernest Rahn against Nels Erickson, both of Manistique township, was dismissed in justice court Wednesday morning. The men became involved over a trivial matter.

Both were severely censured by the court who told them that if any trouble occurred between them in the future, both would be arraigned on a charge of disturbing the peace. Rahn was held in contempt of court when he claimed that he had not been given justice and became boisterous in his objections. Attorney J. J. Herbert represented Erickson.

PLAN FORESTRY CAMP IN CITY

Fairgrounds Available as Quarters for New Project

Emergency conservation work along the same lines as is being done by the federal government is expected to be undertaken by the state in order to relieve unemployment, with camps to be located in this city, Seney, Newberry, Lake Superior state forest, and other sites in the upper peninsula, according to statements made by Julius Thorsen, district supervisor, following his attendance at meetings held in Marquette and Munising with state and federal conservation officials.

Mr. Thorsen was in Manistique Monday making arrangements for the local camp and staking out work projects. It is understood that the work will be done by the state through the use of R. F. C. funds.

The county fair grounds is expected to be the site for upwards of 200 young men this summer who will be transported to the various work projects each morning, taking their noon lunch with them, and will be returned to camp following the eight-hour day. Work for local camp members will be in the Palms-Book state park around the Big Spring and also by the Murphy Lake region according to plans recently formulated.

Completion of a fire line system, cleaning up fire hazards, clearing and building fire roads, and brushing out some of the wilder sections, will constitute most of the work. Because of an insufficient supply of seedlings, planting of trees will have to be restricted considerably.

Each of the forestry camps will be in charge of a supervisor who will be selected from a local group of experienced woodsmen.

Mrs. Anna LaChappelle returned this week from Seney where she has been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. George Weber, at Hartman's camps, for one week.

FORESTRY ARMY ARRIVES IN CITY

Six Cars Switched to M. & L. S. Engine for Trip to Steuben

Memories of World War days were brought to mind yesterday morning as the special Soo Line train came into the station bearing a company of 215 young men of the Civilian Conservation Corps enroute to the federal forestry camp at Steuben where they will work in the Hiawatha national forest for the next six months. Scheduled to arrive here at 5:30 a. m. the special train did not get in until a few minutes after ten o'clock, shortly following the arrival of the east-bound Soo train. The company was late in getting started from Camp Custer and also encountered slight delay at the Straits.

Fresh from a two-week conditioning period at Camp Custer, members of Company 666, in charge of Captain Todd, late of the Philippine Islands, appeared fresh and eager to arrive at their destination, ready for the rough wholesome life of the woodsman. "How far is Steuben (accented on the first syllable)?" "How large a place is it?" "Any electric lights there?" These were some of the questions flung at the small gathering of onlookers who awaited the arrival of the happy-go-lucky contingent, some of whom in khaki shirts and drab trousers, all of which had been furnished from the U. S. army supplies.

Some of the faces registered flashes of disappointment when they received answers exaggerating the difficulties and hardships ill they can be called that) they will have to face. Most of them realized that they were being fed bear stories and they immediately resumed their carefree chatter.

"Slickerized"

Typical of their spirit was the answer of one of the chaps when one of the bystanders jokingly shouted, "Wait 'till the mosquitoes get you, they'll be shipping you back in boxes!"

"We'll manage to take care of ourselves all right," was the retort, "we're slickerized."

The company occupied four passenger coaches to which were coupled two baggage cars housing a ten-day supply of provisions, and an unoccupied day coach. According to a statement made by Captain Todd, breadstuffs for the forest workers will be supplied from Fort Brady which will furnish camps in all three upper peninsula national forests, Hiawatha, Ottawa, and Marquette.

During their twenty-minute stop here due to switching operations, the company was served a light lunch provided by workers in the supply car. Twenty gallons of steaming hot coffee was furnished by a local hotel. The 22-mile trip to Steuben was made via the Manistique & Lake Superior railroad.

x—New 1933 high.
xx—Previous 1933 high.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, May 4 (AP)—Stocks entered the third week of their "inflation market" today with the appetite for equities still unsated and prices rolled higher after a little early unsettlement. Many commodities were again hesitant, but secondary categories in the bond list, as well as a goodly number of high grade loans, appreciated. Net gains for shares ranged from 1 to more than 2 points.

Rail securities struck out for higher prices and attained considerable momentum and volume on the upswing. Oils also perked up after their recent period of depression, while steel shares were prominent. Metals, which did nobly Wednesday, rested on those laurels. Motors and chemicals rallied, but some utilities did little more than mark time. The Standard Statistics-Associated Press industrial average made a new 1933 high, while the 90-stocks composite did likewise.

President Roosevelt's message and introduction into congress of the legislation necessary to make his recommendations law found the carriers already on their upward move. The chief executive's proposals had been well publicized in advance, but the market evidently felt they had not been fully discounted. No doubt enthusiasm was bolstered by evidence of improving traffic and a thought that actual movement of commodities into actual consumption would give the roads' business a substantial boost. Many carriers reached new 1933 highs, gains ranging from 1 to 2 points or better for most of the actives.

U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown, National and Republic Steels improved fractions to a couple of points. General Motors was up 2 on a large turnover while gains for Du Pont and Allied Chemical were more than 3. Standard Oil of New Jersey was up 2 5-8, Texas Corp. nearly 2 and Standard of California 1½, Socony-Vacuum rose half a point.

Some forecasters are talking about a 35 percent operating ratio for the steel industry in the near future. Much stronger support would be provided if railroad buying were to develop on an appreciable scale; Pennsylvania's plans to purchase 20,000 to 25,000 tons of rail are interesting in this connection, though numerous roads still have sizeable tonnages on hand.

Chain store stocks made little response to their April sales statistics. These companies apparently enjoyed a marked pickup last month; in at least one instance dollar volume ran ahead of a year ago. Automobile shares were favored by an April production estimate that represented the best single month for that industry since July, 1931.

The weekly reserve bank statements disclosed no unusual changes. Gold reserves of the system continued to increase, the currently reported gain amounting to some $39,000,000. Member bank borrowings rose $15,000,000, presumably incident to month-end needs. Holdings of U. S. government securities increased $206,000, standing at $1,837,278,000.

New York, May 4 (AP)—Railway loans led the bond market on another upward spurt today as the administration's new carrier relief bill, accompanied by a special explanatory message from President Roosevelt, reached congress.

Secondary issues, as in recent sessions, were the most buoyant, but United States government securities, at the same time, maintained their forward trend and various of the so-called "gilt-edge" corporation maturities displayed a steady to firm front.

The trading volume again expanded on the upturn, sales totaling $18,153,000, par value. The average for 60 domestic corporate bonds gained six-tenths of a point.

In addition to the administrative spur, the rails reflected reports of advancing steel operations, increased electric power output and a highly improved tone in business generally. While the inflation bogey was still in the background, its influence on senior securities apparently was not for the moment, of primary importance.

The more active rail loans, with gains of 1 to around 5 points, included some of Alleghany Corp., Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio, Erie, Great Northern, Illinois Central, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, New Haven, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, Southern, Union Pacific and Wabash.

Utility and industrial gainers of 1 to around 4 points numbered some issues of American & Foreign Power, Armour & Co., Chile Copper, Goodrich, Houston Oil, International Telephone, Postal Telegraph, Texas Corp., U. S. Rubber and Warner Bros.

Federal loans, while not especially active, recorded advances of 1-32nd to 12-32nds of a point. Foreign obligations were mixed. Bonds of Germany, Belgium and Dutch East Indies were off 1 to 2 or more points. Japanese government issues reached new highs for the year with gains of 1 to 2 points.

New York, May 4 (AP)—Sales of the S. S. Kresge Co. in April were $10,228,412 compared with $10,337,217 in April, 1932, a decrease of one percent. March sales were 18.2 percent below the same month last year. At the end of April the company had 720 stores against 714 a year ago.

George C. Moody, vice president in charge of production, was elected a director of the Midcontinent Petroleum corporation today.

The gold statement of the New York Federal Reserve Bank today indicated no change in the country's monetary stock, there being no imports or exports and no net change in earmark account.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, May 4—A strong upward movement of grain prices developed special energy late today owing to belief that an address by President Roosevelt tonight would prove constructive.
The rise carried wheat for the first time in a long while to within hailing distance of 80 cents a bushel here. No. 2 red wheat sold at 78 cents spot cash, with demand extremely active from millers. Future deliveries were stimulated by persistent speculative purchasing attributed largely to inflation an dto proposed novel methods of the department of agriculture under the new farm bill.
Wheat closed firm, 7-8 to 1¼ above yesterday's finish; corn, ½ to 1 1-4 advanced, and oats 1-8 to 3-8 up, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to a gain of 15 cents.
Heavy buying of wheat in the final hour appeared to come from eastern sources and from a Chicago trade leader. Earlier, there was selling that was ascribed to liquidation on the part of eastern holders. This selling weakened the market at times, but it was readily absorbed by commission houses, and the market bounced back whenever the selling let up.
Tending notably to help wheat prices higher were reports that spring seeding in Canada was 10 days to three weeks late. Enlarged receipts of domestic wheat southwest and northwest attracted considerable notice, but failed to have any lasting market influence, although Kansas City totaled 121 cars against 78 at this time last year, and Minneapolis and Duluth made an even more striking comparison. Today's price for No. 2 red wheat in Chicago, 78 cents, was the highest in sixteen months.
Corn and oats were independently strong, on account of widespread delays to corn planting.
Provisions went higher with grains.
Closing indemnities: Wheat—July, 71 5-8 to 3-4, 76 3-8 to ⅞; September, 72½ to 5-8, 77 1-8 to ¾; December, 74 3-8 to ⅞, 78 3-4. Corn—July, 39 7-8 to 40, 43 to 43 1-8; September, 41 3-4 to 7-8, 44 3-4.

Advances Range From Fractions Up To 2 Points

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
(Associated Press Financial Editor)

New York, May 4 (AP)—Taking its cue from the action of the big board, the curb market, after early unsettlement today developed a degree of strength that increased on spirited demand for oil shares in the late trading.

Virtually all groups participated in the improvement which netted advances of fractions to more than 2 points throughout the list.

Among the petroleum issues, recent recessions were sharply reduced by Gulf Oil and Humble Oil which rose 2⅜ and 4¾ points respectively. Standard Oil of Indiana, International Petroleum and Standard Oil of Kentucky improved major fractions to a point.

Utilities were quiet but managed to close slightly higher. Electric Bond and Share and United Gas moving up fractionally. Aluminum Co. advanced nearly 3 points.

Mining shares closed higher in somewhat more active trading that advanced Lake Shore for a net gain of better than a point.

Transfers today amounted to 463,000 shares compared with 485,000 shares yesterday.

don't catch up with them? I never can face Mother!"

The calm voice of the man in the driver's seat came to her. "We'll find her," he said. "Don't you worry!"

Ahead, miles ahead, on the country road, Big-low grinned down at the girl beside him.

"Cooler now, baby? That sure is a hot burg you live in."

Kay said, "Yes, lots cooler." She cast an apprehensive glance back over her shoulder. "Sure nobody saw me when you stopped for gas?"

He had a big, booming laugh—empty, meaningless. He employed it now.

"Baby, don't think about that old burg any more. You've shaken the dust from your shoes. You're slated for big times."

He slipped an arm around her shoulders. Kay shrank from it. "Hadn't you better watch the road?"

The laugh boomed again. "Don't like one-armed drivers, do you, Baby?"

Kay grimaced to herself in the darkness. She'd been a fool to come, she told herself, but she was no quitter. She'd burned her boats. She'd have to keep on going.

CHICAGO ERRORS COST ONE GAME

Two Close Battles Go to New York, 2-1 and 5-1

New York, May 4. (AP)—The Giants took two close decisions from the champion Chicago Cubs in a hard fought doubleheader today, 2 to 1 and 5 and 4, and captured the series two games to one.

Fred Fitzsimmons pitched steady ball in the opener while New York came from behind in the fifth and sixth frames to score the deciding runs. Sam Leslie's triple and George Davis' single in the seventh won the game.

Four Cub errors played an important part in settling the second contest while Bud Parmalee hurled well in the pinches. Blondy Ryan drove in one of the winning tallies in the sixth when Stephenson lost his fly in the sun and it went for a double and a wild throw by Jurges allowed the second to score on the same play.

ATHLETICS GET 2 TO 1 DEFEAT

Simmons Scores Against Old Teammates in First Inning

Chicago, May 4. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 2 to 1 today in the only game of their three-piece series the weather man allowed them to play.

Both Chicago runs came in the first inning and followed an error. Sam Jones kept the A's to five hits, two of which came together in the second inning for their only run.

Al Simmons, one of three former Athletics facing their old mates for the first time in their long career, got one hit in four times at bat, a triple that drove in the first Sox run, and then scored himself. George Haas got a single and Jimmy Dykes none.

Boys Who Saved Train Get Babe Ruth Baseballs

Detroit, May 4. (AP)—In a Passaic, N. J., orphanage five six boys who will add to their possessions a league baseball autographed by Babe Ruth himself.

The six baseballs were dispatched by the Bambino from Detroit today after the Yankees' victory over the Tigers here, when he heard the story of how the six boys flagged an express train yesterday near a track washout and prevented a wreck.

The six youngsters, led by Douglas Fleming, 15, himself the leading home run hitter of the Passaic home, were nonchalant when folks mentioned the possibility of medals and citations following their heroic deed. "All we want," they said, "is for Babe Ruth to hear about this."

The Babe did hear about it. In addition to the baseballs he sent the following telegram to each of the boys:

"I have heard of your bravery in preventing a train wreck yesterday and saving the lives of hundreds of persons. I am proud of your courage and feel very happy that you thought of me. The same courage will help you make good in life. I will try to hit an extra home run for you this summer, and will have you as my guests at Yankee stadium when I return from this trip. My hearty congratulations go with this telegram. Babe Ruth."

Score All Even In Tennis Match

Bournemouth, Eng., May 4. (AP)—Helen Jacobs, United States champion, and Eileen Whittingstall, co-holder of the English doubles title, were all-square today when rain halted play in the quarter-final rounds of the British hard courts tennis championships.

Miss Jacobs, the only American in the tournament, dropped the first set 9-11 but came back to even the count by taking the second, 6-1. In the third set, the score was 10-1a when rain forced the players from the court.

Madame R. Mathieu of France, the defending champion, eliminated Betty Nuthall, English star and Fred Perry and H. W. (Bunny) Austin, members of the Davis cup team, advanced to the final's of the men's singles.

Football Fans Invited To See Game Today at Local Athletic Field

The calendar is going to be moved ahead five months at the Escanaba athletic field this afternoon. The Eskymos are playing football with all the vim, vigor and vitality of mid-season. The program at the field this afternoon is a full time game between the candidates for the 1933 team and the graduating members of the 1932 squad and the rivalry has reached a peak usually seen only when the Eskymos are preparing to meet such teams as St. Joseph, Menominee, Soo and Gladstone.

The game today which will start at 4:15 o'clock marks the end of four weeks of spring training for the football candidates at Escanaba tans as well as Coach Nordberg will get their first opportunity to see what Escanaba high school will have to offer to the football situation in the fall.

The Escanaba high school athletic association announced yesterday that the public is invited to witness this spring football spectacle at the athletic field. A small admission will be charged to those in a position to pay but it was emphasized that persons who want to see the game and cannot pay the fee will be admitted without charge. Proceeds will be used to send several track men to an invitational meet at Ironwood this spring.

The starting lineup for the Eskymos will be Jensen and H. Olson, ends; Roeder and Milkovitch, tackles; Kraus and R. Olson, guards; Chase, center; Alprovitz, quarter; Fisman and Christensen, halves, and Skradski, fullback. Practically all members of the squad, however, will get an opportunity to show what they can do in actual competition.

The seniors starting lineup was announced yesterday as follows: Lalueff and LaFave, ends; Wheeler and Labre, tackles; Haddock or Breitenbach and Harwood, guards; Vanderberghe, center; Abel, quarterback; Hebert and Monson, halfbacks; Logan, fullback.

Clem Flanagan will referee. Ed Edick will be umpire and Henry Wylie will handle the lines.

BRUNELLE ENDS FOOTBALL DRILL

St. Joseph Candidates Lack Weight and Experience

Having spent two and a half weeks of intensive drill on fundamental work, the St. Joseph football candidates for the 1933 team ended their spring training yesterday and Coach Brunelle announced that the regular game scheduled between two teams from the squad had been cancelled.

The Parochial squad indicates that there will be plenty of work facing the St. Joseph coach next fall. Clements, husky tackle, is the only member of the 1932 first team who will answer the call in September. The present crop of candidates is exceptionally lacking in weight and there is little experienced talent available. However, unless more avoirdupois is to be found in the fall, Coach Brunelle probably will have to find a combination speedy enough to offset their lack in weight. The St. Joseph mentor indicated yesterday that theer were many fast boys on the squad—all with the urge to make good—and that it was entirely possible that the Parochials would be very well represented on the gridiron again when the next season rolls around.

One of the 'finds' of the spring training season is Smith, a lad who has had some experience, can run, pass and kick well and is regarded as fast as Beaumier, the Parochial speedster of the 1932 team.

The Parochial athletes have turned their attention to track now and Coach Brunelle reports he expects to have the best track team that the school has had in its history.

Indians In Tie With White Sox At Second Place

Cleveland, May 4. (AP)—The Indians spotted the Washington Senators four runs in the first inning today, but staged an old-fashioned rally in the ninth to win, 6 to 5, and go into a tie with the White Sox for second place.

It was "Hard-Luck" Mel Harder's first victory of the season.

Big Card Drive In Fifth Gives Phillies Defeat

Philadelphia, May 4. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, in a big fifth inning pushed five runs across the plate, their total for the day—to hand the Phillies a 5 to 2 defeat today.

Jim Mooney, Cardinal left-hander, hurled effectively through the whole nine innings, holding the Phils to six scattered hits.

The score:

Fishing Dope

BY DONAHUE

NEA Service Sports Writer

Stizostedion vitreum is just about the most accommodating cuss of the finny tribe. To some of us old "Stiz" is known as the wall-eyed pike, and to others as pike-perch, yellow pike, blue pike, jack salmon and even pickerel.

He inhabits lakes and rivers, likes the going deep, and often is caught weighing more than 15 pounds. The wall-eye, named for large soft eyes, is a game fish. He will take underwater lures, and even can be fooled on flies at dusk. But minnows are his favorite food.

Unlike bass, musky or pike, the wall-eye likes company. He goes on an eating excursion accompanied by his friends and all their progeny. When one is landed there must be many more in the vicinity.

In spring and fall they can be caught close in-shore during the day, but in summer they go deep. During this season a good trolling rig comes in handy.

Look for these fish in deep pools at the edge of riffles and rapids in streams and rivers, and in deep water just off bars in lakes. Put a spinner or spoon on your line, bait it with a chub, weight the whole with a large swivel sinker and troll slowly over the likely places.

The wall-eye rarely will leave the water, but his bull-like rushes and tugs under water make catching him good sport.

Earthen breastworks were used in the battle of New Orleans, contrary to popular belief that cotton was used.

HOPES PINNED ON HEAD PLAY

Weather Outlook Dubious for Annual Classic at Louisville

BY ALAN GOULD
(Ass'd Press Sports Editor)

Louisville, May 4. (AP)—Instead of clearing the extraordinary atmosphere of uncertainty surrounding the 59th Kentucky Derby for the benefit of the visiting vanguard of the turf faithful, today's developments mainly served to emphasize the chances or expert convictions that the prime eastern choice, Will R. Coe's Ladysman, will be chief among the victims of an unset in the big classic this Saturday at Churchill Downs.

Although the Coe entry of Ladysman and Pompontus rules at 2 to 1 favorite, after being at the top of the books nearly all winter and spring, the prospects favor a wide-open race among no more than 18 and possibly only 15 starters. The third Coe horse, Pompoleon, is a doubtful starter.

Others Well Backed

Ladysman's workout this morning, while not calculated to furnish anything but exercise for the favorite, caused a number of observers to come away shaking their heads over the horse's behavior.

Nevertheless, Ladysman remains the horse to beat.

The blue grass regions has pinned its hopes on Head Play, the $500 colt owned by Mrs. William Crump of Nashville, now held at the short price of 4 to 1.

At least a half dozen others may be well backed by the time the bugle calls the derby field to the post Saturday around 5 p. m. (C. S. T.). There is the Florida derby winner, Charley O., owned by Mrs. R. M. Eastman of Chicago; Leo Rosenberg's Kerry Patch, surprise winner of the rich Belmont Futurity last year; Mr. Khayyam, son of a former derby winner, and, last but not least, Broker's Tip, the chief candidate of the famous Kentucky Colonel, Edward Riley Bradley.

Hotels Filled

Colonel Bradley's horses have led the way home three times in a dozen years.

Those scanning the chances of long shots have had their eyes on Inlander, the Brookmeads stable's 50 to 1 entry, which will be ridden by the veteran Mack Garner, as well as F. A. Griffith's Sarada, supported well enough so far to be held at 12 to 1.

Crowds at the Downs for today's racing were increased by several trainloads of enthusiasts from the east. Most of the hotels already are filled to capacity.

The weather prospects are dubious. Rain is forecast tomorrow and possibly Saturday, in which event on of the doubtful starters, Silently Shot, with a liking for the mud, will augment the derby field.

One Hit Allowed Braves, Cincinnati Slugs 4-0 Victory

Boston, May 4. (AP)—Si Johnson, Cincinnati right hander, today held the Boston Braves to one hit as his slugging teammates batted out a 4-0 victory. Only 27 Tribesmen faced Johnson during the game for Wally Berger, who registered the only Boston hit in the second inning, was thrown out going down to second.

Johnson, who got off to a slow start this season, did not have a single strikeout or yield a base on balls. Berger was the only Brave to reach first base during the entire game and only seven Boston batted balls went out of the infield. The one-hit shutout gave Johnson his second victory in six starts.

DERBY JOCKEY KILLED IN RACE

Buddy Hanford Thrown at Pimlico; Skull Fractured

Baltimore, Md., May 4. (AP)—Bernard (Buddy) Hanford of Omaha, Neb., slated to ride the Audley farm's Trace Call in the Kentucky Derby Saturday, was fatally injured today when he fell beneath the flying hoofs of a large field of thoroughbreds in the sixth race at Pimlico.

The 21-year-old jockey for the last two years rated as one of America's leading riders, was injured when his horse, Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark's Apprehensive, stumbled and fell on the backstretch. He died from a multiple fracture at the base of the skull.

Hanford was under contract to Preston Burch. He had his greatest year in 1932 when he booted 146 of his mounts home in front of their fields. His record at Pimlico showed six winners since the meeting opened last Monday.

Pittsburgh Comes From Behind, Beats Brooklyn, 2 To 1

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 4. (AP)—It was Honus Wagner day in the Brooklyn ball yard today and the Pirates and Dodgers put one of those ball games for the delight of the "Flying Dutchman" and a crowd of 10,000.

Pittsburgh came from behind after trailing seven innings of the way and won in the tenth, 2 to 1.

It was a pitchers' duel all the way between Lefty Watson Clark, Brooklyn mainstay, and Heinie Meine, Pirate right hander, with the southpaw showing the early class and the stocky Buccaneer finishing the stronger. Clark allowed eight hits, Meine six.

Wagner, now 60 and back in the game as a Pirate coach, bellowed "Hurry up" to his runners from the third base coaching lines most of the afternoon. The band played old favorites for his benefit and the crowd cheered him continually.

BIG SIX STANDINGS

(By The Associated Press)

Fred Schulte climbed into the driver's seat in the big six yesterday, passing the National league's leading batter, Johnny Frederick, and gaining heavily on all the other members except the idle Sam West. Schulte hit twice in three times at bat, adding 13 points to his average to bring it up to .410. The rest could get no more than one hit apiece and all lost. Frederick and Gabby Hartnett suffered the most severe setbacks, losing 27 and 23 points respectively. Hartnett dropped to third in the National league list behind Pie Traynor.

The standings:

	AB	R	H	PCT.
Schulte, Senators	61	12	25	.410
Frederick, Dodgers	42	6	17	.405
West, Browns	80	12	31	.388

GOMEZ NO HIT GAME SPOILED

Gehringer's Clout Comes in Ninth; Yanks Win Easily, 5 to 2

Detroit, May 4. (AP)—Charley Gehringer blasted Vernon Gomez, southpaw ace of the New York Yankees, loose from a niche in baseball's hall of fame today when he clouted a home run at the start of the ninth inning to ruin a prospective no hit game. The Yanks had little trouble winning the game 5 to 2 even though Gomez weakened a bit when he saw his hopes for a record game knocked away.

For eight innings Gomez did not give a hit and although he walked seven, no Tiger got past second base. Then Gehringer clouted his first pitch in the ninth into the right field bleachers and Gerald Walker followed with a double that led to Detroit's other run.

The early part of the game developed into a pitching duel between Gomez and Bridges. The Yanks got five hits and three runs before Bridges gave way to a pinch hitter in the seventh and Sorrell took up the pitching assignment. The Yanks found him for three hits and two runs in the closing innings.

The Yanks' first two tallies came in the fourth. Chapman walked and went to third when Tony Lazzeri singled to right. Bridges became absorbed in his windup and Lazzeri stole second, placing himself in position to score after Chapman when Bill Dickey singled to right.

Chapman scored the winning run for the Yanks in the sixth. With one out, he beat out a single off Marvin Owen's glove. He took a long lead off first base, and beat DetSautel's throw to second by inches. He scored on Dickey's single after Lazzeri fanned.

Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig again went hitless. The Babe walked three times and Gehrig once. Neither has had a hit during the club's stay in Detroit this week. Lazzeri poled out a home run that cleared the left field screen.

In the ninth inning after Gehringer got his homer, Walker doubled and stole third, later scoring on a wild pitch. Greenberg walked. Schuble went in to run for him, but at that point Gomez tightened and fanned Haywerth and Reiber in succession to end the rally.

SANITARIUM IS LOANED $20,000

Money Will Be Used to Finance Operations at Institution

Menominee, May 4 (Special)—Trustees of the Pinecrest Sanitarium at Powers met yesterday and authorized a loan of $20,000 from the First National Bank of Menominee to finance operation of the sanitarium pending receipts due from the state of Michigan and from Menominee, Delta and Dickinson counties, which maintain the institution.

G. A. Blesch, one of Menominee county's representatives on the sanitarium's board of trustees, said that anticipated receipts from the counties and state were pledged as security for the loan.

The sanitarium, under the direction of Dr. John T. Towey, medical superintendent, has been meeting its obligations, despite delayed receipts, but was forced to negotiate the loan to continue payments to its creditors and employees.

Menominee, Delta and Dickinson counties each appropriated $8,500 for support of the sanitarium this year, but due to delinquent tax collections county payments to date are only: Menominee county, $3,000; Delta county, $2,000; Dickinson county, $1,000.

The state, which pays the sanitarium $1 a day for non-pay patients, owes the sanitarium more than $50,000.

Clinics offered for free examinations of tuberculosis suspects in the city have not been held lately because of inability to provide quarters for the clinics, which formerly were held in the Spies Public Library building.

It has been suggested that the D. A. R. Boys' club building be utilized for the clinics, which are sometimes held in the city as often as twice a month, and investigation is now underway to determine if this can be accomplished.

Buys Chifton Hotel

Marquette—John H. Scherer, of Marinette, has purchased the Clifton hotel, corner of Front and Bluff street, and has arrived in Marquette to take over its management.

Mr. Scherer announced yesterday that in addition to renovating the building he will install a tap room in the front part of the basement, where beer will be dispensed when the 3.2 per cent brew is permitted to be sold in the state. It will be located where the old Clifton bar was housed in the pre-prohibition days.
